National Geographic Learning | Cengage is pleased to announce the arrival of a new, high-school World History program on MindTap, its premier online learning platform. Making its debut in January 2020, this stunning program features the research of National Geographic Explorers as students start a journey through history, honoring the cultures of the world through thousands of years, illustrated by the passion and research of over thirty National Geographic Explorers. Stories and video illustrate the voyages that will engage and delight your students. A complete set of print components, including the Teacher's Edition, Student Edition, and History Notebook will be available in July 2020.

Buy our print and digital bundle now and enjoy six months free of World History before your six-year subscription countdown begins in summer 2020.
