The goals and themes of the AP* course are referenced throughout, and a variety of helpful tips are provided to students at point of use.

- Variety of authentic materials. Every unit contains authentic video, journalistic articles, essays, and literary readings. Students are also exposed to a variety of regional accents in recorded dialogues.
- Extensive practice of the communicative modes. The Interpersonal, Interpretive, and Presentational modes are practiced extensively through role-plays, debates, compositions, journal-writing, oral presentations, and a variety of activities intended to stimulate conversation.

Students are given tips to comprehend dialogues, vocabulary-building exercises, functional language to maintain conversations, techniques to comprehend difficult texts, and useful phrases for effective writing.
- Focus on proficiency. Extensive vocabulary lists, a complete grammar syllabus, and instruction specific to heritage speakers develop students' linguistic proficiency. The goal is for students to be able to speak and write accurately.
- Integration of skills. Integration of reading, listening, and writing skills is practiced at the end of every unit through the use of authentic sources.

Interaction continues to be a complete program offering unparalleled support for the study of culture, literature, and language at the intermediate level. This new edition offers a broad range of cultural and literary content, and concise, yet thorough grammar explanations. Interaction combines the best of a complete grammar text and a literary and cultural reader in a convenient, one-book format. Each theme-based chapter encourages students to expand linguistic and cultural knowledge through readings and communicative activities. New segments on the French-speaking world are included in the chapter-opening culture sections in many chapters. Several of the "Notes culturelles" have been revised to link the chapter theme to manifestations of Francophone culture beyond France. The connection of these sections to the chapter theme highlights the presence and influence of Francophone culture in areas around the world, including the United States, and serves to showcase French as a global language.

Presented in a brand-new four-color design, the text features a fully integrated short film (Kurzfilm) in every other chapter. Reading plays an important role in this text, with exercises for listening, speaking, and writing revolving around the wide range of authentic reading selections including: advertisements, charts, newspaper and magazine articles, letters, e-mails, forum mails, polls, interviews, biographies, songs, poems, and fiction. The self-contained grammar section (Grammatik) allows instructors to work with the grammar topics in whatever order they choose; the grammar chapters may be treated independently of the reading chapters or used concurrently with the Themen of the same number.
